

Ethics and Law for Health Professionals

A 6-Hour Home Study Program for Health Professionals

This program concerns the ethical obligations of health professionals. The program is designed to meet ethics or legal requirements in most states for most professions.

This information can protect your health organization or private practice from liability and improve your ability to make ethical decisions in a wide range of health environments.

Participants completing this program should be able to:

1. Identify ethical obligations and qualifications in the training and competency of behavioral health professionals.
2. Describe documentation requirements involved in keeping clinical records and assessments of clients.
3. Discuss nonsexual multiple-role relationships, attraction and romantic relationships with clients, subordinates and peers.
4. Assess the validity of self-promotion with regard to online advertising.
5. Identify issues regarding income obtained from managed care, testimony in legal proceedings, and activities when working in challenging employment situations.
6. Describe the process by which the health professional can take appropriate action when there is inappropriate behavior in one's peers with regard to ethical or legal wrongdoing.
